Warnings
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The Fund's exposure to a single country market (China), through investment in the foreign fund, entails the risk on economic, political and social changes of such country. This Fund invests in US Dollars and generally does not hedge its currency position thereby exposes to higher risk. Investors may get a return lower than the amount initially invested. In the future the Asset Management Company may employ risk management tool to mitigate such risk. Risk management however comes with transaction costs which may reduce the overall return of the fund.
